(NewsUSA) - Savvy travelers recognize the benefits of flying privately, including convenience, comfort, and confidentiality. However, those who do employ private travel are not immune to the hassles of dealing with charter operators, a process that often involves waiting days for a flight confirmation.

Some online charter jet booking services allow users to enter information, but most do not allow for the actual booking and payment process.

Enter ONEflight International, a Colorado-based charter broker, that operates the BAJit online booking program, a system that strives to make the process of booking, confirmation, and payment through its simple online portal, seamless.

The website, BAJit.com, allows users to create a profile and search approximately 4,000 domestic luxury jets available through 500 top-rated charter operators.

Other special features that make BAJit a win for private jet flyers: they can enter travel details and browse the available jets, viewing both interior and exterior photos as well as information about amenities such as in-flight wi-fi and pet-friendly aircraft. In addition, travelers can view and compare ratings of different jets, compare prices, and consider aircraft size and style.

Once travelers have made a choice for the jet that meets their needs, they can book and pay instantly through the secure website. Frequent fliers can save money with a membership program that offers reduced hourly rates.

Travelers can feel confident that the planes they book online via BAJit meet strict standards for safety. ONEflight coordinates travel in collaboration with the Federal Aviation Administration and all planes must meet FAA standards. ONEflight also conducts safety screenings before every flight.

"While economics and convenience are at the forefront of most companies that charter private jets, it is our responsibility to maintain their safety," says Ferren Rajput, founder and CEO of ONEflight International. "Delivering a peace of mind to our clients is a mandate for all our employees. It is why we go through extreme measures in protecting their safety while providing our clients with a great experience on every flight," adds Rajput.

Private jet travel will become even easier with the introduction of the BAJit phone app, according to the company website. In the meantime, visit BAJit.com to book a flight with ease, and visit oneflight.net to learn more about ONEflight International.
